- Built a client-facing data pipeline for a UK job-search product — scraping, structuring, validating, and storing job-application data for downstream reporting.
- Designed and developed a dashboard (React.js) that visualized collected job-application data and cost metrics for clients, turning raw activity data into an at-a-glance view.
- Engineered multi-agent AI architectures using OpenRouter and Model Context Protocol (MCP), coordinating specialized agents across 4–6 tool pipelines.
- Designed scalable RESTful APIs in Node.js/Express.js backed by optimized PostgreSQL databases, supporting high-throughput data exchange for the React frontend.
- Accelerated feature deployment cycles by 30% by integrating AI-assisted developer tooling (Claude Code, Codex CLI) into the Git workflow.

Data Analyst — Dr. Prasanta Banerji Homeopathic Research Clinic

May 2026 – Jun 2026

- Eliminated 15+ weekly hours of manual overhead for clinic staff by engineering automated data pipelines using Google Apps Script and Google Workspace.
- Managed and organized patient and treatment data for the clinic, introducing real-time validation checks that reduced data entry errors by 18%.
- Built and delivered structured weekly analytics reports to executive management, consolidating and visualizing treatment metrics to support inventory scheduling decisions.

ADM ISMO Analyst Trainee — Cognizant
